

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

The House in Committee of the Whole Still on the Purdue Appropriation.

The Bill Concerning the Employment of Children in Mines and Manufactories Recommended—Other Notes.

A letter was received by Speaker Jewett from Representative Wildman yesterday, saying that his physician advised against his return to his legislative duties. He was granted indefinite leave of absence.

The new State-house bill which passed the House a few days ago was read the first time in the Senate yesterday, and referred to the Finance Committee, with instructions to report it back at 10 o'clock this morning. Senator Willard said that he understood from the State Auditor that there was some question as to the constitutionality of the measure in its present shape, but had no desire to delay the progress of the bill.

Senator Bailey's bill, prohibiting the employment of children under twelve years of age, in mines and manufactories, was defeated in the House yesterday, being called up under a suspension of the rules. The vote was reconsidered and the bill recommitted to a special committee consisting of Messrs. Gordon, Williams and Hopkins. The objection to the bill was based upon the fact that it made an exception in favor of such light manufacturing industries as children might be employed in without injury to their health. The committee will no doubt report in favor of exceptions in favor of certain classes of manufactories.

The Governor signed the following bills yesterday: An act to legalize and make valid the sale and conveyance of real estate by cities incorporated under the general law for the incorporation of cities, where such sale and conveyance have been made upon a vote of a majority of the Common Council of such cities, and without appraisement; an act fixing the time for holding court in the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-eighth and Forty-sixth Judicial Circuits and the length of terms thereof, and regulating other matters connected therewith; an act to fix the time of holding court in the Second Judicial Circuit and the length of terms thereof.

Representative Taylor's bill to compel all railroad companies, where their lines run through farm lands in the State, to provide suitable crossings over and across said lines upon notification of the parties interested, and fixing a penalty of $20 for each day's failure to provide such crossing, came up in the House on a third reading yesterday. The bill provides that the law should apply to railroads constructed within the past five years, or are now under process of construction or any hereafter constructed. An amendment was offered, but afterward withdrawn, to increase the time from five to twenty-five years. The bill was recommitted to a special committee to make certain amendments.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Appropriation bill again yesterday, the pending question being Mr. Gordon's motion to strike out the item appropriating $24,000 to Purdue University. The motion was lost by a vote of 41 to 22. Mr. Gordon then moved that the item of $24,000 be stricken out and $10,000 substituted therefor. A long discussion followed upon this motion, those favoring the appropriation arguing that it could not be considered; as under the rules the defeat of the first motion was really an adoption of the item. The Chair decided that the motion was in order, and a substitute to make the appropriation $10,000 was offered and lost. A motion to make the appropriation $25,000 was also lost; so was an amendment making the amount $21,000. Motions were then made and several voted down fixing the amount at $18,000, $27,000, $12,000, $15,000, $3,000, $10,000, $17,000, and $12,000. The appropriation was fixed at $18,000 by a vote of 46 to 24. Mr. Lloyd moved to amend so that no part of the appropriation should be paid out except upon proper vouchers. Mr. Williams offered another amendment that no part of the salaries of the faculty should be paid out of the appropriation. Both amendments were defeated. The item appropriating $25,000 for new buildings at Purdue was stricken out by a vote of 35 to 34, and an amendment appropriating $10,000 was adopted. This vote was reconsidered and Mr. Reeves moved to amend by making the appropriation $1. While this amendment was still pending, the committee rose, reported progress and asked leave to sit again at 9 o'clock this morning, which was granted.

COURT-HOUSE LOCALS.

Damage Suits Aggregating $30,000 Filed in the Courts—Frank M. Wright Gets a Verdict for $2,700.

Building permits aggregating $2,500 were issued yesterday.

The will of Maria W. Kinder, deceased, has been probated. The property is left to the legal heirs, who are named as executors.

Charlotte Sawyer was granted a divorce from Joseph Sawyer, by Judge Taylor, yesterday, she proving failure to provide and drunkenness.

In the case of Frank M. Wright vs. The City, for damages sustained by falling on Washington street, near Meridian, in February, 1883, the jury yesterday returned a verdict for the plaintiff, giving him $2,700.50.

Catharine Lakin asks for a divorce from Joseph Lakin, whom she married in August, 1876. She alleges that he abandoned her in 1882, and since then has failed to provide for her. Defendant is a resident of Chicago.

Suits have been filed by Louise P. Powell, James M. Keys, Sonhorria B. Snow and Catharine Burrucker against Joseph Bonstetter and others to collect $100 each of the auxiliary of the Amicable Investment Company of this city on certificates issued to each of the parties.

Elizabeth Ranscher has filed suit as administrator of the estate of Ferdinand Ranscher, deceased, against the Union Railway Company for damages, growing out of the death of her husband, the deceased, who was killed on the night of the 21st of last December, on the Belt Road at the Pleasant Run bridge. Damages, $10,000.

Mary C. Demmy has filed suit against W. H. Demmy, her husband, and the Street Car Company. Plaintiff married her husband in August, 1883, her name being Mary Carr. She says William abandoned her in March, 1881. William was formerly a merchant policeman, then a school janitor and now a street car driver. Plaintiff took sick after his desertion and was compelled to go to the City Hospital and her child was sent to the Orphan Asylum. She asks that his wages be restrained in the hands of the company for which he works, and that on final hearing he be compelled to contribute to her support.

In Judge Taylor's Court, yesterday morning, Agnes Hasel filed a cross-complaint against William Hasel in the habeas corpus case brought by him for possession of the children. She appeared in the case, but he was not present. By her testimony it appeared that she had no means to support the children, and that he was making from $75 to $100 monthly. Upon the evidence Judge found for the defendant in each case—that is, he refused to grant the relief prayed for by either of the parties.

Winfield S. Aldridge has filed suit for slander against Charles S. McBride for cause, alleging his employment at a former time by defendant in selling and delivering meat and collecting therefor, that in the presence of James W. Charles, Alpha and Austin Kelly said: "Win Aldridge, while he was in my employ, stole $150 from me." Also in the presence of W. L. Pyle and D. Ryan defendant charged the same things upon him. The complaint is in two paragraphs; demand is made in each for $5,000, and on the entire complaint for $10,000 damages.

Ann and Thomas Russell have filed suit for damages against the city, alleging for cause that they were owners of lot 21 in out-lot 126, which is on the banks of Pogue's Run and near the place where the canal crosses the stream. The city at this point placed a stone wall for a culvert in such position that when Pogue's Run was full it ran over the lot and cut a hole sixty feet long, the full width of the lot, and eight or ten feet deep, to the damage of plaintiffs in the sum of $500; that their stable and its contents were washed away to their damage $300 worth. Demand, $1,000.

The suit of Thomas H. Barleigh vs. Squire Feibleman and others, came up for trial yesterday in Room 2. A jury was empaneled and part of the evidence heard, when a legal point arose, and upon the decision of the court the plaintiff dismissed and withdrew his papers. This was a suit in replevin and for $1,000 damages. Barleigh was at the State Fair last fall, running a confectionery stand and restaurant. At the conclusion of the fair, he was sued by about a dozen of his employees, who attached his goods and took judgment against him for the full amount of their claims. Execution was then issued and his goods taken by the Constable. Claiming to have filed a schedule in a former case, Barleigh asked for relief under it. This being refused he filed the suit which was yesterday dismissed. His attorney says it is to be refiled.

Henry Krupp has filed suit against the Stockman Ice Machine Company for reformation of a contract and for damages for breach of contract. Plaintiff lives in Louisville, Ky. He charges that on the 14th of November, 1882, he was brewing beer in Louisville at the Shelby street brewery, at which time he entered into contract with defendant, the same by mistake being described as the Stockman Manufacturing Company, under which he paid $10,000 for one of the ice refrigerating machines. Plaintiff alleges that defendants have broken the covenants of the contract in this, that the machine is a total failure, and would not work by reason of a defective ammonia pump, it not being fitted properly at the joints, so that it failed to take away the ammonia from the absorbent and by reason of such failure caused the absorbent to burst and put plaintiff to the expense of purchasing a new pump. The machine failed to cool ninety barrels of beer as agreed, and plaintiff was without the use of the machine for three months, and he was compelled after all to purchase ice as before for his purposes, and was compelled to employ an extra force of men by reason of the failure of the machine. Damages in the sum of $10,000 is asked.

RAILWAY NEWS.

The Vandalia and the St. Louis Pool—Light Immigration and Low Rates—Other Items of the Rail.

The Logansport Division of the Vandalia it is said, has sixteen connections for Chicago. No wonder it hauls so much coal to that point.

West-bound freight traffic is picking up as the season advances. Shipments of merchandise to Kansas City and points beyond are very heavy.

The question as to whether the O. and M. people will lease the building now occupied by the Falls City Car Works, at Jeffersonville, for general repair shops, will be definitely settled in a day or two.

The Cleveland Rolling Mill, which was recently awarded a contract by the Bee Line for several thousand tons of steel rails, to be used on the L. and St. L. this spring, will be delivering the same about the first of next month.

The meeting of the General Managers, to be held in Chicago next week, will be attended by a large number of officials of Indianapolis roads, and the indications are that some good will come of it, notwithstanding statements to the contrary. The old saying that it takes 200 per cent. to go around a pool has been only too well verified in Chicago, Indianapolis and St. Louis within the past two months. A member of the St. Louis pool remarked a few days since that if the Vandalia was allowed 100 per cent it would probably be satisfied to remain in the pool. This is something of an exaggeration, but it may not be untrue that the Vandalia is claiming a little more than it is entitled to. Just what its proper percentage should be will be determined in a short time, or as soon as Commissioner Fink's office can furnish the figures, and when that long mooted question has been decided the Vandalia may choose to return to the fold. At all events, it has over a month in which to make up its mind. There is no doubt, however, but that General Freight Agent Hibbard is thoroughly disgusted with pools, and the impression prevails that the Vandalia could do 20 per cent. more business were it free from all pooling agreements.

Unless the times soon become more prosperous in this country, or a war in Europe becomes imminent, the influx of immigrants is liable to be disappointing, notwithstanding the low rates. Thus far this year it has been about 35 per cent. less than last year. In 1873 the number of immigrants received at Castle Garden was 358,800, or more than in any previous year; in 1874 it fell to 313,233, and in 1875 it was down to 138,439, or less than in any year since 1862, when we were in the midst of war. In 1880, the revival of prosperity having been assured, the total again went up to 457,257, and since then the number has been much greater. But they have found out in Europe that the times are hard here, and many are hesitating to come over. Undoubtedly the Pennsylvania Company would be glad if none came for its $1 rate to St. Louis is ruinous. Indeed, according to the Passenger Agent of another road, it does not get that for the road has to pay 75 cents a head to Castle Garden, and getting only 25 cents for the haul from New York to St. Louis. At this rate rail-roading is either a farce or a tragedy. It looks tragic to those who own the property. —Exchange

AMUSEMENTS.

RHEA IN "ARCADE" AT THE GRAND. Last night, at the Grand Opera House, a large and fashionable audience greeted the distinguished French actress, Mlle. Rhea, in "Arcade," her new comedy-drama by Victorien Sardou, taken from a "Dangerous Game." This is the interesting story: "Henri" having called on "Helene" with honorable intentions, although at an unseasonable hour, he finds himself by unexpected complications in the apartment of the Baroness. In order to shield her and conceal the motive of his presence, he snatches some diamond ornaments from her and allows himself to be captured as a thief. The Baron, who is known to be a man of deadly aim and will, contrives, by a series of skillfully arranged questions, to show that theft was not the object, and becomes convinced of the guilty complicity of his wife. The scene in which this is worked up is an admirable illustration of French ingenuity in play making, the conflicting emotions and purposes of father, husband and wife being introduced with fine effect. The whole is happily cleared up, however, by "Helene," who is the good angel of the scene. She innocently avows that the visits of Henri were to her and not to the Baroness, and the key by which he gained access to the park was given by her. The inevitable French fabric of apparent or real intrigues between a wife and an irrepressible young lover are to be found in the play, not without suggestion that matter more objectionable had been retrenched in the translating. But it also has the comical French ingenuity of plot and incident, the liveliness of dialogue and aptly interwoven scenes. Mlle. Rhea appeared to good advantage as the sprightly, vivacious and winning "Helene." The naïveté and charm of personal bearing, voice and facial expression won the ready and sympathetic favor of the audience and sustained a role which in less attractive hands would lapse into secondary interest. In the closing act in which, on returning fresh from the ball flushed with her triumph, she innocently avows that "Henri" is her affianced, and with all the artlessness of a child the story of their mutual love and their plans for the future, her peculiar graces are seen at their best advantage. Rhea has manifestly gained in the accomplishments of expression, and the mellow and finely modulated tones. The cast was a strong one and made a splendid support. "Camille" will be given at the matinee this afternoon, and "The American Countess" to-night.

"CINDERELLA" AT ENGLISH'S. Matinee this afternoon and regular performance to-night, "Cinderella," by the Juvenile Hollywoods. Those who have not seen this little fable in the fairy opera, which has been produced to good business all week, should avail themselves of the chance either this afternoon or to-night. They will be well repaid in seeing a really excellent performance at a small expense. Baby Clara, only five years old, as "Cinderella." Master Dick, only six years old, as "Prince."

NOTES. The Amy Gordon Opera Company hold the boards at English's all of next week, presenting a varied repertoire.

The prices for Mlle. Rhea's "Camille" matinee at the Grand this afternoon will be only 25 and 50 cents, with 75 cents for reserved seats.

The Zoo closes the season to-night, and the theater will be entirely rebuilt. The Leonzo Brothers and their acting dogs are the attraction this afternoon and to-night.

The Dime Museum was packed again last night. Baby Venus, Colonel Cooper, the giant, and the Heyers Sisters are irresistible attractions. A children's bon-bon matinee will be given this afternoon, and a crush is expected.

The charming little emotional actress, Minnie Madden, plays a return engagement of two nights at the Grand on Wednesday and Thursday evenings next. She will again be seen in her great play of "Caprice," supported by a strong company. Sales of seats open Monday morning.

The McCull Opera Company, which had all its costumes and effects destroyed in the Buffalo Music Hall fire, Wednesday night, is booked to play "Falka" at the Grand Opera House the last two nights of next week. They will keep the dates, as will be seen from the following telegram received by Manager Dickson yesterday:

"We certainly play 'Falka' with you as previously arranged. Will have entirely new costumes in Buffalo to-night, and will not miss another night. JOHN A. MCCULL, Indianapolis. This is welcome news, indeed, besides showing the wonderful recuperative powers of the organization."

Wants His Brother Intercepted. George Garringer, of Fairland, called at the Central Station last night, and requested the police to procure information relative to his brother John, a man about thirty-six years of age, who left home some days ago to visit relatives in Missouri. Mr. Garringer exhibited a letter which he had just received from his brother. It was dated at St. Louis, and stated that detectives were on his track and wanted to kill him; also, that he intended to walk to his destination. Mr. Garringer says it is quite plain to him that his brother has gone insane, and he fears that harm may befall him, and he has in his possession a large amount of money.

The Appointment Declined. Some time ago Speaker Jewett requested that Governor Gray would appoint Mrs. M. T. Kerr, widow of ex-Speaker Kerr, to the position of Trustee on the Knightstown Home Board. The Governor appointed Mrs. Kerr, in accordance with the request, but she has declined the position, owing to the fact that a great deal of time would be necessary to attend properly to its duties. She expresses herself as very grateful for the courtesy of the appointment, as well as for the interest that has been manifested by Speaker Jewett and other friends.

Advice to Mothers. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once. It produces natural, quiet sleep, by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the bowels, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.
